MONDAY JULY 31 TO SUNDAY AUGUST 6, 2023

The Model UN SDG Education Camp is the most inclusive and diverse education camp for students across the world. It is more than a simple MUN, it gathers students from more than 60 countries, some directly selected through their government, with the aim of meeting in New York and discussing the most pressing education on SDGs. Since its first edition, Model UN SDG Education Camp was able to attract some of the most prominent personalities in the realm of world politics and diplomacy.

Participants engaged in High Level Committees with the support of several governments and UN agencies. Model UN SDG Education Camp has become the first of its kind engaging students and youth on all the 17 Sustainable Development Goals.

The Model United Nations SDG Education Camp is a program designed for youth and students with the goal of educating participants on the Sustainable Development Goals, education about the United Nations General Assembly and Its subsidiary.

The 2023 MUN SDG Education Camp will commit to the UN Secretary General clarion call to the Decade of Action and the 2030 Development Agenda to educate youth and students on:

1. Youth and Students SDG Review
2. Simulation and Negotiation Skills
3. Education on UN and its subsidiaries
4. Ambassadors briefing and SDG review
5. Youth and students SDG Art Exhibition
6. MUN Mock Ambassador Presentation
7. SDG Cultural Exchange Education

Students will gather in groups to discuss possible ideas and learn on writing and presenting statements on SDG Review with respect to arts, the future of youth and students, dynamics of resolution and declarations, making skills, peer partnership.

Participants will take the role of a UN member states and participate in discussions and presentations on SDGs, global issues, build skills for life and leadership, as well as collaborate with fellow youth and students from across the world during our week-long Model UN programs.

Objective

The objective of MUN SDG Education Camp is to have youth and students develop the skills they need in understanding the work and operation of the United Nations, global issues, build skills for life and leadership, and collaborate with students from across the world during our week-long Model UN programs! They will also gain first-hand experience in international relations, to produce high-quality resolutions aimed at bringing about the Future We Want, and to submit these resolutions to relevant UN agencies and world leaders for consideration.

The MUN SDG Education Camp begins with a series of workshops delivered by UN Officials and Diplomats about Youth Involvement, the SDGs, STEM Education and STEM Exhibition and Workshop. Delegates will have the opportunity to engage at a High Level by benefitting from experts in their field on the TEAM GROUP topics.
